Time To Begin

In a whole school year there are lots of times to begin. This year we started a lot of things and got to know more. The year began September 3, 1980, school began to be as usual by November and summer vacation began June 10, 1981.

Ready, set and go.

Beginning to run and rescue with giving blood.

We started new classes, opened more books, began school at 8:00, had a second lunch line for the first time, began a good season for the wrestlers, had excellent starts from startblocks and began to study when we had to.

Time To Work

Work is an essential part of school and everybody does it-once in a while. Work for exams, work for tests and work for high scores. There is no way to be without it, yet it is awful hard to be with it. Results of work are sweat and even flunked tests, but remember: it has to be.

Talk, train or type-people worked hard and succeeded

Play also is an essential part of school even if you can't believe it sometimes. Play notes, play in class and play after school. We always find time for playing even if teachers don't always agree with this way of enjoying life.

Playing causes laughter and makes school acceptable.

Time To Play

Homecoming

The court

Kimberly and Mr. and Mrs. Kent Kirby

Queen Marlene, Mrs. Marvel Conley and Jim

Theresa and Mr. and Mrs. James Davis

Edie Eldridge and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Eldridge

Melissa Tobey and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tobey

M.B. crowns M.C.

This year we had three exchange students from Europe and one from San Salvador. They were introduced during halftime and were in the parade. Helena Karppinen from Finland, Andrea Keller from West Germany (above), Soren Nielsen from Denmark and Julio Medrano from San Salvador (left) who plans on graduating here in two years.

Not only the football game on Friday was a part of Homecoming but the whole week before that we showed our spirit. No matter what we did, dress up, dress crazy or in black and gold, we had a lot of fun every day. And so did the teachers. We also voted for the Homecoming Queen and her court and she was honored on Friday night during halftime by the classes.

Winning Float Seniors "Can" O-E!

Sophomores "Skunk 'em"

Homecoming meant floats as well as football, and this year the Seniors won the float competition. Like all the years before, each class had its float and put it together during the week before Homecoming.

Juniors "Beat O.-E."

On October 10, 1980 they looked great in the parade and people who worked on it, knew how much it took to hold up this old tradition.

Freshmen "Sink 'em"

Expressions of winning in a face and the will to beat others.

Time To Win

Of course we won this year-at least a lot of times. There always was the spirit and the confidence in our teams, and there were a lot of times to be happy about a victory.

Even a close one by two points is still a win and will always be. Congratulations, everyone, we did a good job of winning this year.

Time To Lose

A ball can be lost as well as a race.

Of course we also lost this year-a few times. Sometimes it helped us to win the next time and sometimes we were just discouraged. There were times to lose but if there weren't we would be perfect, and "nobody is perfect" is still true. So, why worry about it, you often learn from losing.

Dance, yell and stretch together in CHS.

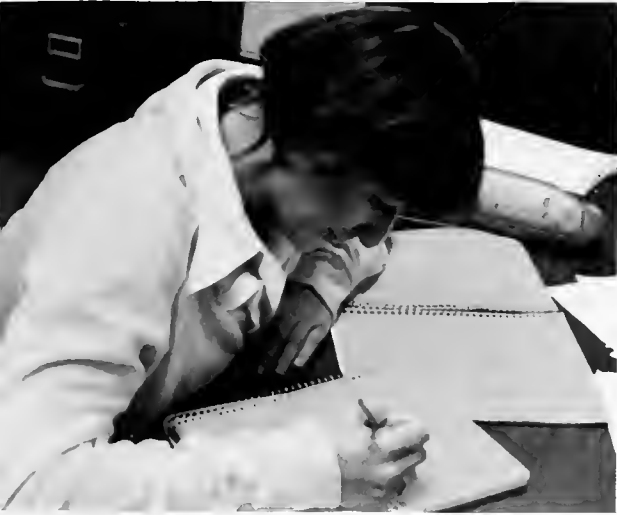

High school is one of the best times together. The Freshmen experienced that for the first time and our Seniors had a great time being together in their last year.

No matter where and when we never run out of time to be together.

Time To Be Together

Time To Be Alone

High school can also have a few times and reasons for being alone. The bitterness after defeat, quietness in empty hallways and even being in a group can leave you on your own, either of your own choice or of others.

Lisa, Scott, Rick and Beth spend time alone.

Overtime

Overtime isn't very popular but there sure is enough of it at school. Not only Saturday detention is considered overtime work but so are teachers in the lounge after 2:30, early morning swim practice, studying at home until midnight, team practice after school, writing 200 words for Mr. Clark, running extra laps in gym class for gum chewing and having to play five more minutes of basketball.

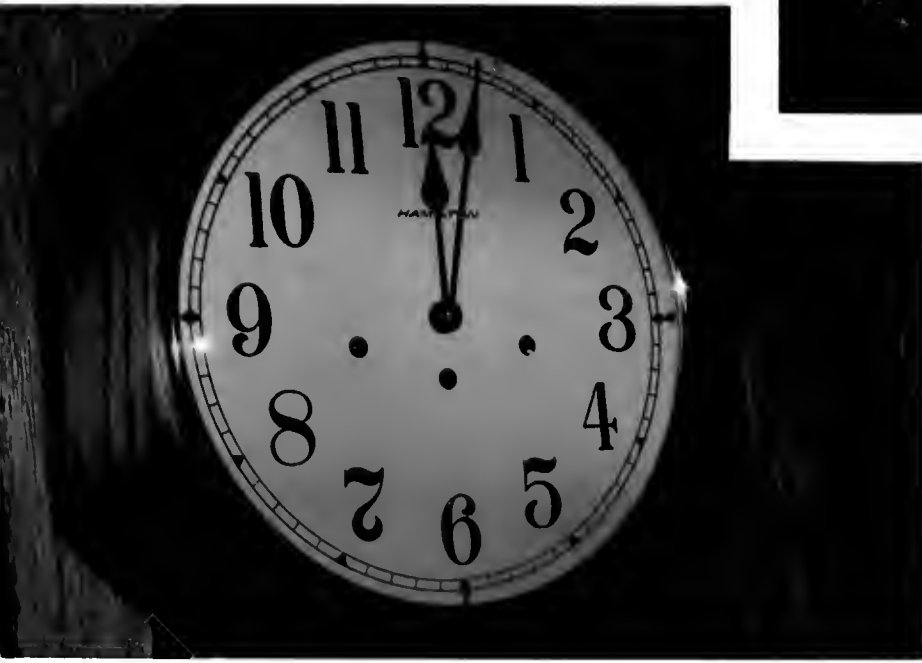

There are lots, lots more-sometimes hated, but mostly accepted-and overtime still is one of our (good?) times at school.

People often even liked their overtime when they had fun.

What a year! Graduation finally came and then it was-bye, Seniors! They could hardly wait to get out of Corunna and explore the world out there (or maybe they already did before?). 1981 hopefully was one of their better years of high school, with the Government day, junior-senior banquet, prom, senior trip and much more. There is more to come, so have a great life, Seniors!!

Who, me??

Sorry, folks!

Killer statements.

This year the yearbook staff is dedicating the 1980-81 Sphinx to Mrs. Hazel Eldridge. Mrs. Eldridge, who was the high school secretary for 17 years, made an indelible impression on all the students and staff with whom she came in contact. She handled the problems with which she was confronted with professional poise and patience. Invariably helpful and understanding, her cheerful attitude positively affected everyone in the school. In her way, she fulfilled the highest ideals of education.

The yearbook staff did it again. What you are holding in your hands right now, these 192 pages full of preserved memories, were done by the people you can see on this page. Without them, and without all the effort, hours and hard work that they put in after school, there would be nothing—no funny faces to laugh about, nobody's signature in the cover, nothing at all. This is one of our best yearbooks we ever had—one of the nicest ones that 5, sometimes 6, people put together. They are proud of it and I think, so should you. Maybe there are some things missing or some names misspelled. We are sorry about that, but if you would have been there, maybe this book could have been even better. If ...

This year the Corunna band had one of its most successful years ever. In order to prepare for the busy marching year, the marching band traveled to Lake Louise, near Boyne City, in August. During this very strenuous week of marching and playing, more marching and more playing, we learned all of our routines for the upcoming football season. Besides football games, the band participated in "Band Day" at Central Michigan University, and received a standing ovation from the crowd.

During the winter months, the Symphonic band practiced extra hard in order to put on a great concert at the Michigan Schools Superintendent Conference. The Senior and Symphonic bands both received "I's" at band festival, while the pep band performed at basketball games.

To end a fabulous year, the Marching Cavaliers invaded the city of Holland, and received straight "I's" while out-marching all of their competitors.

Overall, it was a very good year that will not be forgotten by band members and its spectators.

Debora Whiting, President

The student council of 1980-81 has tried to accomplish those things that could benefit both students and the community. Many of the effects could not be felt this year. We have established assemblies for next year, worked on changes for Homecoming. I have enjoyed being President for a year, but it is not the easiest job. I hope in the following years students will become involved in Student Council.

Coach Moffit comments: Our team had its ups and downs but with seven wins we had quite an outstanding season this year. There were our skinheads, the chinese bandits and Moeller's molecular power group. Our conditioning programs started in early June and hard work helped us a lot in our games. It was fun to coach the team although sometimes it seemed that nobody was listening.

Ceremonial Wastebasket-Marlene Conley

Ah, the beauty of a wastebasket
 All of its secret treasures are thrown inside;
 bits of our lives,
 our feelings,
 our thoughts,
 things we had no want of.
 Others may find such trash treasurable.
 A wastebasket
 is a ceremonial burial ground for the things we don't want others to own.

Dreams are tall,
 Dreams are small and I'm the biggest dream of all.

The First Snow-Chris Whitehead

It came like a descendent
 Falling from the sky
 Like a heavy fog that couldn't lift
 It hugs the ground
 Cold-Wet-
 White-Pure-

The wind swiftly moves in
 Then brushes the particles away
 But the white fog
 Stays.

Endlessly hugging the ground
 Until the day comes
 And it's time for the snow to lift

But something in my depths
 Is prison buried.

I remember what I cannot see
 I long and strive for it too

Song to Tonya-Tim Gorman

In soft sets of petals lie-
 In thematte sheen a-glisten
 With raindrops gentle, light as a sigh-
 If you were but to listen.
 A tiny voice that parts the wind
 Sings so high lively and sweet.
 Never leades, steeled, or tinned-
 A soprano clean as harvest wheat.
 She sings to me in tones of heaven.
 My ears resound with joyous rapture.
 And chorus kept by handmaids seven
 Made just for them my heart to capture.

Visions showed me, they, of wonder-
 Islands fresh and drenched with sun.
 Pirates snarl and count their plunder
 Of soon I found that I was one.
 And climbed aboard a wooden ship-
 To peer into the sea where under
 Trees of coral sway and slip
 Upon themselves and mussels sun their Bracken backs. They turn to see my Eyes grow wide and wider still
 And glisten with the reflections of thy Sunshine on the mittow cracked 'till
 In the rippling, swaying tide
 Her face appeared in veilment of
 A glowing haze. The waters sighed
 For they were, like me, with her, in love.
 They like me longed to hold her,
 Touch her cheek with waters warm.
 But they could do naught but to behold her.
 While I might rest her in my arms.
 So did I this, or least to try.
 But unbeknownst to me, a curse.
 As I watched her fade before my eyes
 I knew I'd not felt ever worse.

But with that fate of love, I knew
 In meadows green and lush with moss
 Or sparrows, swift to windows flew
 Or balls of tight bound string to toss
 At kittens-children of the world-
 The last name thought of Innocence.
 Faller leaves in whirlpools swirled.
 The last thing found in seventh sense
 Can find in life-the things I've missed.

Happiness . . . -Andrea Keller

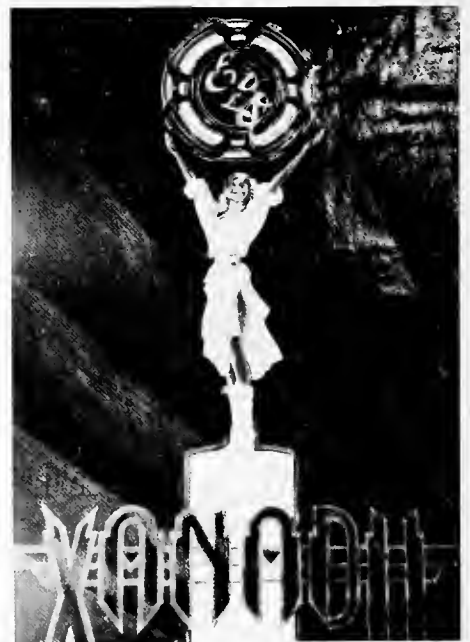

Watching the sunset at night and feeling the moon so bright.
Peeling potatoes on the kitchen floor and wanting nothing more.
Walking through an ice-cold river, feeling the stones and the shivver.
Painting hearts and names on school house walls, and giggling during anonymous phone calls.
Sitting around with a bunch of friends or just quietly holding hands.
Buying someone an ice cream cone or dreaming in the dark alone.
Watching the flowers grow and hearing the wind blow.
Riding for hours on your bike or pretending to hitchhike.
Getting up before sunrise, baking someone a cake and surprise.
Making somebody smile or just jogging for a mile.
Feeling the joy when you win or making something out of tin.
Going shopping all day and dying to know what he'll say.
Spinning and turning on the merry-go-round and having fun with kids on a playground.
Looking real deep into his eyes and knowing there is someone who tries.
Bathing in the soft moonshine or feeling free after a glass of wine.
Trying to teach yourself how to knit, or learning from a baseball player how to hit.
Having a friend that is waiting for you All this and much more can be happiness too.

I wish waterfalls could wash away all my pains
They just leave me wet. Shelly Letavis

Don't let me do my work on any day,
In halls or buses, at my desk or stall.
In crowded bleacher seats or detention hall;
I'll write it in my English book today,
My wildest daydreams calling me to stray,
"That ain't my job; my reward; my life's call;
Of all in school, I am a guy with gall
Who will do the job no one else's way."

Then I shall see it, not too gross, nor bad,
To suit my ideas and prove my bag;
Then shall I joyful leave the lecturing nag,
And gladly race, with the bells ringing glad
At closing time, to run and shout, have fun,
Because I know for me my work's undone.

I hold you near

Blood Drive

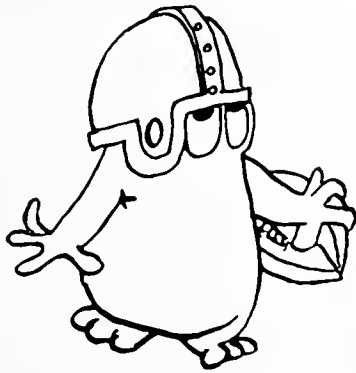

The first annual Blood Drive was sponsored this year by the National Honor Society. Close to 100 pints of blood were donated by the students and staff alike. McDonalds participated by giving each donor a certificate for a hamburger and offered free drinks. CHS has once again proven their spirit and willingness to help others by making the 1980 Blood Drive a success.

Road To Success

The beginning of school this year was a very hectic one. As most students soon discovered, getting to school was a difficult task. One-way streets and the city police met the students on the first morning. By the time the first snow fell the construction was complete and things were back in order.

Play

Director, Ms. Schneider

For the first time, the Seniors, with ALL of their spirit, could not muster up enough to complete the Cast of "Arsenic and Old Lace", so we begged for Juniors.

After struggling for weeks trying to learn our lines, we finally accomplished this feat by the eve of opening night.

Arsenic and Old Lace is about 2 old ladies who take pity old lonely men with no families. In this manner, they "put them out of their misery" by offering them Elderberry Wine with poison. Little do they know that the wine is poisoned . . . Their nephew, who thinks that he is Teddy Roosevelt, buries the bodies in the cellar thinking they are Yellow Fever Victims.

All in all, The play was a big success and a lot of fun.

Thank-you

Alan Durham
(Teddy Roosevelt)

Director, Ms. Maddocks

Exchange

Andrea Keller was the first exchange student from West Germany ever to come to Corunna High School. She lives in Hamburg, the biggest city in Germany, located in the very north of her country. Andrea was born in West Africa where her parents lived for ten years.

Her father, Hans, is manager of an import and export company and mostly travels a lot abroad. Her mother, Ingrid, is a skilled secretary but now stays home where she is involved in tupperware and other activities. Andrea also has one sister, Anja, who is 18 years old.

Her favorite food while in the U.S. is tacos even though it is not American while she doesn't like peanut butter and squash.

"I had a really great time here in Corunna, Michigan, and that includes bad experiences as well. There were some bad times but they gave me just as much as the good ones. I would like to thank everyone for being so friendly to be at the beginning and staying that way all the year through. I just wish I could stay longer because I really found friends for life here. Special thanks go to my family here, Mr. and Mrs. Alan S. Welty, Kurt, Kris, Beth and Kyle from Corunna. I'll never forget any of you.

Good luck to everyone and I hope I can see you' all again some time in the near future."

"I know that I can't mention all the people who were important to me this year but I would like to say that the few persons on the yearbook staff in Corunna mean a lot to me and will always be remembered by me as special friends. I am so glad I worked on it. It made me realize again how much I would like to be journalist after school."

Thank you all (danke schoen)

Soren Nielson lives in Kolding, Denmark, which has a population of 150,000. The city is on the ocean. Its largest industry is a boat and yacht-building company. His father heads the Computer Pay Service for Dentists, Copenhagen, which serves all dentists in the country. His mother is taking a medical course. He has one brother, 14, who is a junior at school.

"I like the Corunna school system, even though it is more strict here than at home. Teacher-student relationships here are not as close as they are in Denmark. At home, no one thinks anything about a teacher and a student being friends-and it gets you good marks. Personalities enter into the schools."

Andrea Keller

Students

While in the states, Soren lived with the Don Hart and the Everett Hickam family in Corunna. He finished this year in Virginia with relatives.

Helena Kristina Karppinen was an Exchange Student here from Ilomantsi, Finland, and was staying with the Dave Steele Family in Vernon.

Helena says the school system in Finland is very similar to that in Corunna, but-"it is so busy here-so many more things going on."

Finnish schools do not sponsor sports like those here, but High School is much harder in her Homeland.

Students are not required to go to High School, but must complete High School if they wish to enter College, which requires a very extensive and difficult examination. Most college courses require five to six years and are very difficult.

During Helena's stay here in the States, her parents, who operate a clothing factory, have moved and she doesn't really know where she'll live when she returns on July 13.

Helena's home is in the central part of Finland-"very close to the Russian border-we can see the border". There is much farmland where she lives, but the southern part of Finland is heavily industrialized.

"I would like to thank all of my American friends and family for giving me so much."

Thank-you!!!!

Helena Karppinen (MIKA LUTKA)

Class

In our first year of high school, I feel we made a big step in our academic lives and I hope that we can continue in the same direction in the years to come. I have learned a lot in my position as president and have enjoyed working with my fellow officers and I thank them for all of their help.

Tony Toma
Freshmen Class President

Sitting (l-r): Mr. Harvey, Ms. Maddocks, Mrs. Kurrle, Mr. Davis, Mr. Buysse. Standing: T. Toma-President, D. Howes-V. President, L. Franks-Secretary, S. Bacigal-Treasurer.

The Sophomore class this year is exceptional in everything we tried. We did something new with the Detroit Lions and it worked out well. Our class was willing to give a lot to help with everything. In my eyes, our class has a lot of spirit and I am proud to represent this class. We'll be even better next year.
Mechelle Robinson
Sophomore Class President

Officers

Sitting (l-r): Mr. Brown, Sponsor; K. Kirby, Treasurer; T. Oginsky, President; C. Ellis, Secretary; Ms. Wylie, Sponsor. Standing: Sponsors: Mr. Peterson, Mr. Robertson, Mr. Smith, Mr. Kenyon.

This year I had the pleasure of being Junior Class President. Because our class is so spirited, our float was really successful, and won us a spirit point. We also attempted a fund-raising project to help the yearbook. We donated $148 to the cause. With a lot of help from many people, the Jr.-Sr. banquet was largely attended, and we hope next year's Junior class will be able to carry on this tradition. I would like to wish good luck to next year's Juniors and their class officers.

Junior Class President

Senior Class President
Tom Oginsky

The 1981 Senior Class was Number One once again this year. We won the float competition for the second year in a row. We also were leading in the spirit point contest. The class of '81 also had a good year in academics as well as in sports.

The boys and girls varsity teams excelled. Many conference championships were won. Fine athletes have worked hard and done a fine job throughout the last four years that I would like to mention, but cannot, because there are so many. Overall it has been a very successful four years at Corunna High School for the Class of '81.

Graduation

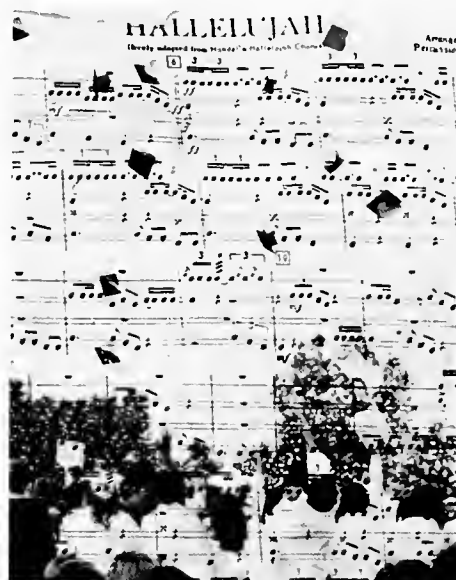

June 7th

As the sun shone brightly with rising temperatures, 207 blue and white graduation caps were thrown in the air to celebrate at least 13 years of school. As everyone sat sweating under their gowns Mrs. Schultz, our guest speaker described the advantages of living in America, compared to Nazi and Russian ran governments. The class of '81 has been a special one, reaching new goals and setting a precedent by our spirit. Our salutarian Edie Eldridge brought to mind a few childhood memories and our co-valedictorians Lisa Ade and Joe Spaniola stressed the importance of striving for goals that are important to yourself. Tom Oginsky, President of the class described the advancements that can be made if we set high standards for ourselves. With diplomas in hand, everyone left on their merry way to life after Corunna High School.

Congratulations

GRADUATION

Faces of old,
faces of new,
people we know,
people we knew.

Growing together,
then drifting apart,
always an ending,
and now a new start.

At graduation,
we will all grow nearer,
and all of our friends
seem so much dearer.

And as we say,
our final good bye,
one last embrace,
one more cry.

A "keep in touch,"
and a "promise I will."
A "remember when"
But better still,

A place in my heart,
you'll always stay,
this is what's said,
as we go our own way.

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS From BURGER CHEF

To you, the 1981 graduates, who are the only renewable resource of this country, I wish you success and good fortune.

As economic and social pressures attempt to erode our basic freedoms and undermine our position in world affairs, it is essential that your generation reject the mind-dulling narcissism and cynicism so prevalent in the 1970's and 80's.

Hopefully, you and your peers will establish the worthwhile values and ideals so necessary in a world creeping towards a feudalistic Dark Age that could render the American Experiment but a brief paragraph in a future history test.

World News

Our past school year 1980-81 was full of events which made history-sad history a lot of times. We can all remember the day that President Ronald Reagan was sworn in for the next four years as well as the day when he got shot at, with him three others who tried to protect him. When you think of the Inauguration Day, you will probably also think of the hostages, the 52 people who got freed after 444 days of captivity in Teheran, Iran. A long worker's strike in Poland caused problems in the Polish government as well as many fights. The most popular prince in Europe, Prince Charles of Wales, 32, became engaged to Lady Diana Spencer, 19.

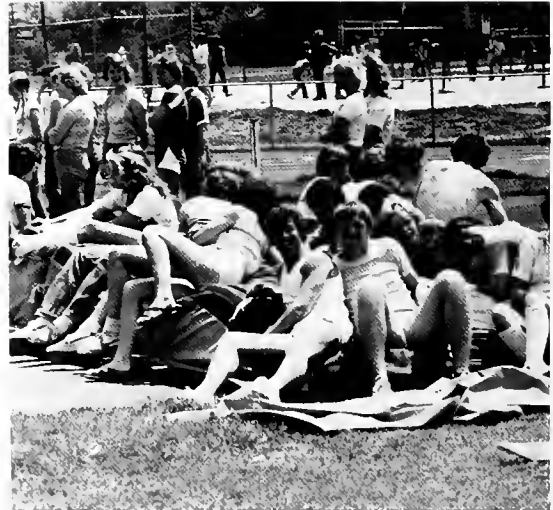

The first coke plant was built in Red China and France voted in a new president, a socialist. El Salvador was constantly in the news for its brutal civil war and the murders that it involved. Bobby Sands starved himself to death after a 66-day hunger strike in Belfast, Ireland, when he was fighting for special political-prisoner privileges for IRA inmates. The world was also shocked when Pope John Paul II was shot during an assassination attempt in Rome, Italy. A very important step in science was taken when the space shuttle 'Columbia' took off and started an era space travel. The fear in Atlanta was still growing in May after more than 20 black children were murdered by an unidentified person within a few months.

Michigan won the Rose Bowl in football, but Proposal "A" on tax cuts wasn't accepted by the majority of Michigan's people. After the summer the big question on TV was finally solved: Kristin shot J.R. People went to see 'Tess' and 'Ordinary People' which both won Oscar awards and you could listen to 'Best of Times' by Styx and 'Another one bites the dust' by Queen for several months, as the Detroit Lions with Billy Sims showed how football is played.

Famous people that died: Joe Louis, Steve McQueen, Peter Sellers and John Lennon, who was assassinated in New York outside his apartment.

Not as sad, but equally important to Corunna students were the prices that went up. We paid higher prices for: one stamp (18¢), school lunch (80¢), a pair of designer jeans ($40), a gallon of gas ($1.40) and this yearbook ($13).

Mock

Olympics

Mock Olympics was very competitive this year. The flashy freshman combined their athletic ability with a little luck to beat the Juniors by just one point. The Sophomores and Seniors hung in there to finish 3rd and 4th respectively. We'll have to excuse the Seniors lack of enthusiasm as they all had senioritis.
